

The Social Work Christian Fellowship is a member organisation for Christians in Social Work and Social Care.

You do not need to be a social worker to belong but you should have an interest in the field.

The Fellowship provides support and guidance to Christians in social work and social care and offers opportunities for Christians to get together to socialise, have fellowship together and discuss issues of current relevance and importance in social work.

We are the only Christian organisation providing this sort of service and we are open to Christians of all denominations.

To become a member it is necessary only to sign up to our simple statement of faith.

There is a regularly published members' journal, an annual conference and – in some parts of the country – local groups.

It is free to join. We rely on members to donate what they can to support the fellowship.

See www.swcf.co.uk to join.

Annual Conference

The Social Work Christian Fellowship 2013 conference will be held at Hinsley Hall, Leeds from April 12-14.

The Speaker will be Rev. Chris Howson. The title of his recent book is A Just Church: 21st century Liberation Theology in Action and at the conference he will be questioning the paradoxes at the heart of social work's attempts to liberate people from injustice. Chris is a former social worker and has been a chaplain at a previous SWCF conference.

This weekend conference is being offered at a flat rate of £50 to all attendees. Book soon, as places are limited.

See the swcf website for further details.
